YOU AND MACMILLAN THE PERFECT MATCH

A wedding is all about tradition. From cutting the cake to throwing confetti, it's a time when you share magic moments with your nearest and dearest. What's more, your wedding can also be an opportunity to support Macmillan and help change the lives of people in your community who are living with cancer. What better way to make your special day that little bit more special?

There are oodles of ways for you to support Macmillan at your wedding. Have a browse through the following options and get in touch to tell us how we can help you prepare for your big day.

Wedding favours and accessories

Our wedding favours are the perfect way to say thank you to guests and raise money for Macmillan. Visit our online shop macmillan.org.uk/shop to see our place card favours and range of beautiful wedding accessories.

Macmillan tribute funds

Organising a collection for a wedding in memory of your loved one is a unique and meaningful way to celebrate their life. By setting up a tribute fund online guests can join in remembering a loved one whilst supporting more people with cancer and their families. Not only is it the quickest and easiest way for your guests to give before the big day, it also allows you to keep track of who has contributed to your tribute fund.

'My dad had fantastic help from Macmillan nurses when he was being treated. When we were planning the wedding invites, and thinking about a gift list, giving guests the option to donate to Macmillan seemed a perfect way of honouring my dad and giving something back.'
