

Changes to information on page 178

Please note, the information about the Ultra Low Emission Zone (ULEZ) on page 178 of this booklet is now incorrect. Details about the zone have changed since the time of printing. Please use the most recent information included on this sheet.

To help improve air quality, an Ultra Low Emission Zone (ULEZ) runs all the time in all London boroughs. If your vehicle does not meet certain emissions standards, you must pay a daily charge to drive within this zone. This is £12.50 a day for most types of vehicles. It is payable on top of the Congestion Charge.

If you have a Blue Badge, you still need to pay the ULEZ Charge unless your vehicle meets the ULEZ emissions standards or is registered for a temporary exemption. Find out more at tfl.gov.uk/modes/driving/ultra-low-emission-zone/discounts-and-exemptions

Changes to information on page 178

Please note, the information about the Ultra Low Emission Zone (ULEZ) on page 178 of this booklet is now incorrect. Details about the zone have changed since the time of printing. Please use the most recent information included on this sheet.

To help improve air quality, an Ultra Low Emission Zone (ULEZ) runs all the time in all London boroughs. If your vehicle does not meet certain emissions standards, you must pay a daily charge to drive within this zone. This is £12.50 a day for most types of vehicles. It is payable on top of the Congestion Charge.

If you have a Blue Badge, you still need to pay the ULEZ Charge unless your vehicle meets the ULEZ emissions standards or is registered for a temporary exemption. Find out more at tfl.gov.uk/modes/driving/ultra-low-emission-zone/discounts-and-exemptions

Changes to information on page 178

Please note, the information about the Ultra Low Emission Zone (ULEZ) on page 178 of this booklet is now incorrect. Details about the zone have changed since the time of printing. Please use the most recent information included on this sheet.

To help improve air quality, an Ultra Low Emission Zone (ULEZ) runs all the time in all London boroughs. If your vehicle does not meet certain emissions standards, you must pay a daily charge to drive within this zone. This is £12.50 a day for most types of vehicles. It is payable on top of the Congestion Charge.

If you have a Blue Badge, you still need to pay the ULEZ Charge unless your vehicle meets the ULEZ emissions standards or is registered for a temporary exemption. Find out more at tfl.gov.uk/modes/driving/ultra-low-emission-zone/discounts-and-exemptions

Changes to information on page 178

Please note, the information about the Ultra Low Emission Zone (ULEZ) on page 178 of this booklet is now incorrect. Details about the zone have changed since the time of printing. Please use the most recent information included on this sheet.

To help improve air quality, an Ultra Low Emission Zone (ULEZ) runs all the time in all London boroughs. If your vehicle does not meet certain emissions standards, you must pay a daily charge to drive within this zone. This is £12.50 a day for most types of vehicles. It is payable on top of the Congestion Charge.

If you have a Blue Badge, you still need to pay the ULEZ Charge unless your vehicle meets the ULEZ emissions standards or is registered for a temporary exemption. Find out more at tfl.gov.uk/modes/driving/ultra-low-emission-zone/discounts-and-exemptions